SOCIETY GIRL SUDDENLY DECIDES TO BE MERCIFUL.

Miss Ethel Lloyd Learns Who Wrote Anonymous Menacing Letters to Her and Announces That She Will Drop the Prosecution.

Miss Ethel Lloyd, of No. 207 Hall street, Brooklyn, who has been annoyed recently by an anonymous letter writer, when seen to-day said she had decided to drop the case.

"I am convinced that I will not be annoyed in future," said Miss Lloyd, "and my parents and I have decided not to put the matter in the hands of the police. I tore up all the letters I received immediately after I got them. I think I know who wrote the letters, but I must decline to make public my suspicions. If I receive any more letters I shall certainly place the matter in the hands of the police and the post-office inspectors."

Miss Lloyd is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lloyd, and she believes that the writer of the letters is a man socially quite prominent in Brooklyn. They were so exasperated at the annoyance that they had determined to place the matter in the hands of the police, but to-day received assurances that no more anonymous letters would be written.

Miss Lloyd is nineteen years old and quite a belle in the hill section. The first attempt to annoy her was made Thursday when she received an anonymous letter which was published.

MY STRAW HAT

Is of Straw—No. Was purchased at on or about (date) and bears this mark:

Name _____ Address _____ Fill out blank spaces and mail to "Straw Hat Hunt, Evening World, P. O. Box 1354, N. Y. City."

The Straw Hat Hunt is a lively one. Already The Evening World has received thousands of letters from those who think they are entitled to the $100 which is to be distributed among the lucky wearers of this season's straw hats. The process of getting into the Hunt, and, perhaps, winning a prize is simple. Look in your straw hat for a peculiar mark placed there by "The Evening World." Five hats have been secretly marked in this way—one in a Harlem store, one downtown, one on the east side, one on the west side and one in Brooklyn. Nobody except one Evening

A percentage of the entire sales at Siegel-Cooper's Big Store next Friday will be donated to the Evening World's Sick Babies' Fund.

Every year since their New York store was first opened the Siegel-Cooper Company have set aside a week during which part of each day's sales were turned over to some local charity. In order to raise more money for these charities, the firm during such weeks always inaugurated a series of special sales throughout their immense show. This not only gives charitably disposed persons who choose that week to buy a special value for their money, but makes a valuable clue was discovered after the letters had been repeatedly read. While the handwriting was disguised it was observed that several phrases were constructed in a manner peculiar to the person suspected.

Gayly Dressed Foreigner Runs Amuck in Jersey City and Wounds a Child of Seven Years.

Raymond Langton, a seven-year-old boy, was returning with his parents to his home, No. 7 Morris street, Jersey City, from an excursion early this morning, when a man in the brilliant uniform of a Polish soldier ran amuck in the street and stabbed the child in the left chest.

The fellow is supposed to be one of the celebrants at a Polish festival. He wore red trousers, a blue coat with yellow chevrons and a gray hat and gay feathers. He ran away. The child was taken to the City Hospital. Capt. Cook, of the Jersey street police, is searching for the man.

Conductor James Flannagan, of car No. 25, of the Montgomery street line, Jersey City, was stabbed by a negro passenger who was ejecting from his car early this morning, for refusing to pay his fare. The negro stabbed Flannagan with a penknife, cutting his right wrist. The encounter occurred at Barrow street. Flannagan, who is a hospital patient, went in and after having his wound dressed returned to his waiting car and reported to the Fourth precinct police two blocks further along. Then he continued his run.

FOUR FINE DAYS ONLY

ASTHMA, HAY FEVER, BRONCHITIS, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND NERVOUS EXHAUSTION CURED.

TOTAL EXPENSE $3 a Month.

DR. GARDNER'S OFFICE, 435 FIFTH AVE.

There are but nine days remaining in which to take advantage of Dr. Gardner's offer of the total expense of $3 a month for all diseases of his specialty until cured. An announcement of the $3 rate will be finally withdrawn Thursday, July 31. There will positively be no extension. Do not wait until the last day, as every patient must have Dr. Gardner's personal attention and only a limited number can be accepted each day.

Every sufferer from Hay Fever, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Deafness or Nervous Exhaustion beginning or renewing treatment in person or by letter before 8 P. M. Thursday, July 31, 1902, will receive Dr. Gardner's personal attention at a total expense of $3 a month, including all medicines, and IF NOT SATISFIED AT END OF MONTH THE $3 WILL BE RETURNED.

HAY FEVER—itching and burning in the nose, watery discharge, pain in head, red and itchy eyes, itching of throat and sneezing.

ASTHMA—tight breathing, choking, gasping, wheezing, frequent coughing, oppression in the chest and stomach, inability to sleep, distress, loss of appetite and general debility.

BRONCHITIS—Early Consumption—coughing, racking cough, chest pain, loss of strength and energy and the ever-present fear and danger of total consumption of the lungs.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION—Probable result of long continued over-exertion by any other disease—depression, failing memory, spots before the eyes, indigestion, general debility, loss of energy and concentration of mind and loss of vital power.

CATARH—nose stopped up, especially at night, breathing through mouth, throat filled up with mucus in morning, and consequent coughing and sneezing.

DEAFNESS—usually resulting from neglected catarrh extending into the middle ear, in many cases accompanied by very distressing noises, ringing, buzzing, etc.

REFERENCE CASES.

Dr. Gardner does not quote the name of only one patient who has been cured by his treatment, but gives the name and full address of as many as space will permit. Some are cured of Asthma, some of Hay Fever, some of Bronchitis or Early Consumption, some of Catarrh, Deafness and Nervous Exhaustion.
